Detailed Action

1.) The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2.) The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3.) Claims 38-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 38, subparagraph c, there is no antecedent basis for “the sharpened end”, making it unclear what the scope of the claim is. The other claims are inadequate under 35USC112 in that they depend from claim 38.

4.) Claims 28-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) taken with Arantes et al. (5,512,726). Figures 1 and 2 and the discussion in column 2 of Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) disclose a wire guide system and a TIG welding torch with the features claimed, including: a nozzle labeled as “N”; a wire guide system comprised of elements 30-48 and oriented at the angles claimed as discussed at column 2, lines 60-70. Note that the opening for the wire guide system associated with element 34 in nozzle “N” of Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) constitutes the claimed “cut-out”. The claims differ from Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) in calling for: a robotic welding unit or a robotic process; particular wire feed layouts and dimensions; and particular workpiece and filler wire compositions. These differences do not patentably distinguish over the prior art. At the time applicant's invention was made, it would have been obvious to have used the torch of Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) in any conventional welding environment. In particular, it would have been obvious to have used the torch of Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) in conjunction with a robot, the motivation being the teachings of Arantes et al. (5,512,726) that it is advantageous to guide a TIG plus filler torch with a robot (see the robot 1 in figure 1 of Arantes et al. (5,512,726) and see the TIG/filler torch associated with elements 42 and 43 in figure 2). It would have been obvious to have configured the torch of Saenger, Jr. et al. (3,588,464) as claimed with the particular wire feed layout and dimensions, the motivation being to adapt the torch to a particular welding problem requiring particular wire sizes or torch clearances, thereby satisfying the claims. It would have been obvious to have used the combination set forth to weld any well known metals, including those claimed.

5.) Applicant's arguments filed 9/2/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The claims are considered to be unpatentable for the reasons set forth above.

6.) Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1725

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
